Three ABC “Excellence in Construction” Awards for Hardin Construction Company Texas Projects

AUSTIN, TX (December 7, 2011) — Two Hardin Construction Company projects in Houston, Texas recently earned Excellence in Construction awards in competitions by two Texas chapters of the Associated Builders and Contractors (ABC).

The University of Houston’s Cougar Village—a $42 million, 290,000-square-foot, design-build undergraduate-housing project on the university’s Houston campus—received an Eagle Award from the ABC Central Texas Chapter and a Merit Award from the ABC Greater Houston Chapter.

St. Luke’s Medical Office Building—a $4 million, 40,000-square-foot addition to the Hospital at the Vintage campus—earned a Merit Award from the ABC Central Texas Chapter.

ABC is the nation’s leading commercial and industrial construction trade association. ABC Excellence in Construction Awards competitions encourage and recognize individuals and companies that exemplify the high quality of merit shop workmanship in their projects while upholding a dedication to building projects on time and under budget.
