Hardin Construction Completes Center for Health & Wellness in Odessa

Medical Center Hospital's new complex offers advanced wellness and fitness

AUSTIN, TX (Jan. 10, 2011) — Completion of the Medical Center Hospital's $15.6 million Center for Health & Wellness, in Odessa, Texas, now allows the hospital to offer a broad spectrum of advanced wellness services—including preventive, diagnostic and imaging, treatment, and rehabilitative services— under one roof.

Hardin Construction Company, construction manager for the project, joined hospital and community celebrants recently for the grand opening of the integrated health and wellness complex.

The 2-story building offers fitness and medical functions and offices. The 72,000 square-foot of new construction includes fitness rooms, three pools, therapy rooms and an urgent care center with exam rooms, imaging services and classrooms.

The Austin office of Hardin Construction Company oversaw construction of the facility, which includes medical offices, urgent care and imaging services, gym equipment and spaces for rehabilitation and physical and speech therapy. The center also houses the Mission Fitness program, offering adults creative ways of getting in shape and tracking the progress of their personalized fitness goals.

New Construction

The Medical Center Hospital has also selected Hardin Construction Company to build a two-floor vertical expansion of the hospital's existing Women's Center, including the addition of a new NICU unit and expansion of the maternity ward. This $29 million project, which includes central plant improvements, will complete in fall 2011.

The architect of record is the JSA Architects of Odessa, Texas
